FRIENDS OF KILLBEAR

Winter 2025 Serving the interests of the park in harmony with the community

Twin Points Barrier Free Access and Viewing Platform

It has now been more than two years since Ontario Parks took over the management of the Twin Points Trail project. This past summer, architects, engineers and project managers visited the site.

Based on their visits, the plans are being updated to meet current accessibility codes, and the placement is being adjusted to allow better access to the rocky shoreline.

We continue to fundraise for this important project, and will keep you informed of new developments.

Got Books?

Visit Killbear's new Free Little Library, located in the Discovery Centre foyer.

We invite you to choose a great read for yourself or your kids, and to leave your finished books for others to enjoy.

Brought to you by Friends of Killbear!

The Nature Shoppe

Did you know?

Some of the proceeds from the Nature Shoppe go toward Friends of Killbear operating expenses, but most of the money goes directly back to Killbear Park. The money pays for concerts, lectures, Indigenous events, conservation efforts, species at risk research, trail and campsite upgrades, major projects, and more.

Proudly operated by Friends of Killbear volunteers.

Introducing Noodin - Killbear's Newest Resident!

This fall, the Discovery Centre became the permanent home of a new Eastern Fox Snake. Noodin (pronounced no-din) means "wind" in Anishinaabemowin. He is a very friendly, curious and active fellow. He is also very large! At over four feet in length, he needs a larger enclosure, one with many enrichment activities to help keep him happy, healthy and engaged.

Friends of Killbear is contributing $25,000 to build a new enclosure for Noodin, with construction to take place over the winter months. These funds come from your donations and from Nature Shoppe revenues. Next time you are at the Discovery Centre, be sure to stop by and say hello to Noodin!

Thank you to our many donors, volunteers, and Nature Shoppe customers who make it all possible!
